Where did it all begin ?

Montevallo —
It's not just a place
or a school
or a community.

It's a Heritage.

A Heritage founded on principles of freedom and justice and liberty and independence — principles which come alive as the 200th anniversary of our nation approaches.

As students, we quest for knowledge in our specific areas of study. But we should also quest for deeper knowledge.

Where did it all begin?
Where will it all end?

Freedom —

Do we, as students, really know the meaning of the word?

Where does our freedom lie?

In the Student Senate?
The Alabamian? or perhaps in meetings like Palmer I and II of previous years?

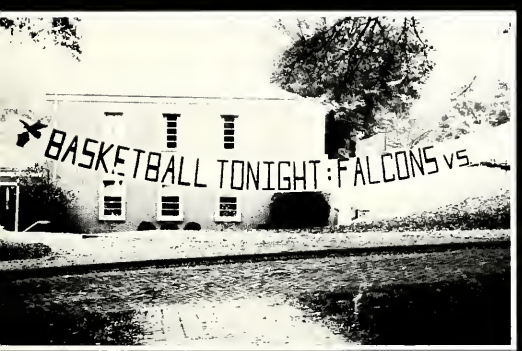
Every age and generation must be as free to act for itself, in all cases, as the ages and generations which preceded it.

-Tom Paine



Justice —

Is there any justice on a campus where women have restrictions on curfew, sign in, and sign out? Where men have no such regulations?

Hasn't the stereotyped idea of an American University always been a meeting of free thinkers, men of the future, a place devoted to progress and new ideas?

Can we honestly term Montevallo progressive or free-thinking?

Liberty —

Is it a possession of rights?

or possibly freedom from arbitrary control?

Does it exist on our campus?

"The tapping system is a method of cautioning students who have given the appearance of obtaining aid during an examination.

"Any student who sees evidence of dishonesty on the part of a fellow student during an examination should tap three times on the desk to warn the offending student that his actions are suspicious and to warn the professor.

"If the suspicious actions continue, the tapper should repeat his warnings. If neither of the warnings has been effective, subsequent action is left to the tapper's discretion:

"To remind the student to report himself.

"To report the incident to the professor.

"To report to the Justice Council."

— Fledgling '75

Independence —

Is college a way to become independent? from home, from parents, from expected behaviour?

How many of us are really independent? or for that matter, how many of us, deep down inside, really want to be independent?

We're young and idealistic, and ready to challenge the world.

We'll get our chance and then . . .

We'll learn all those lessons that no professor could ever hope to teach us.

Will that make us independent?

Where did it all begin?

Where will it all end?

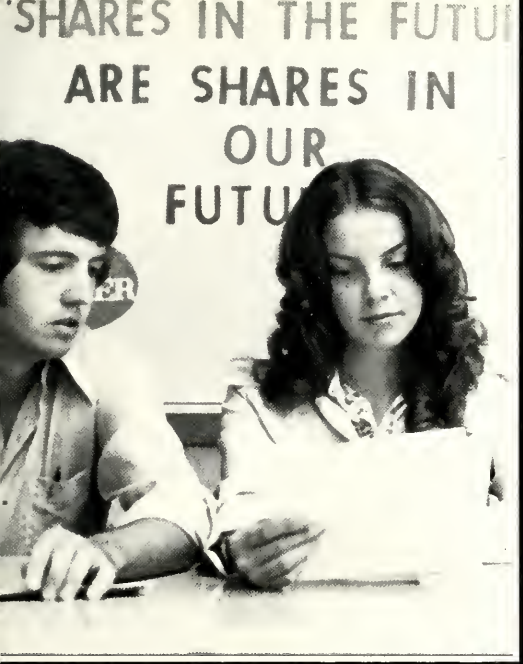
We stand on the threshold of a new world — our nation is 200 years old.

Tradition is strong, patterns are established, molds are formed.

Will we simply accept the traditions, follow the patterns, fit into the molds?

Or will we, as the Patriots did in 1776, strive for a better world? A world where every man knows the true meaning of liberty, justice, freedom, and independence. A world where we move and change with the times.

If the Patriots were alive today they'd be raising all kinds of Hell!



1976 —

A year of promise, of hope, of expectation.

We have the potential . . .
We need enthusiasm, determination, willingness to devote ourselves to a cause.

Ask the questions.

Find the answers.

Where did it all begin?

Where will it all end?

Student life at Montevallo encompasses a wide variety of interests and opportunities. The 1975-76 school year brought new involvements such as the Bicentennial programs along with all-time favorites like Cabaret Theater, step-sings, intramurals, and, of course, College Night. As we began our new year, we were overtaken by a swarm of huge yellow machines plastered with mud; our cobblestone roads were even rougher than usual as construction work necessitated some destruction of present facilities.

Campus comes alive with new interests

All the frustrations, disappointments, and fears which accompany the beginning of a new year, melted away as classes and activities began to bring our campus alive again.

"Give me English 101c, or k, or h . . ."

"Please, Mr. Peevy, I really need to get back in there, just for a second!"

"Do I get a new I.D. My mother washed my old one with my jeans."

"I've got to have that class, I'm a Senior!"

"Where's Check Out II?"

"Have you been to Check Out I?"

"Is that where I'm supposed to be? Well, where's that?"

"I've lost my time assignment card."

"Heck, you'll never get in there."

Two hundred years of American history — celebrating our victories; questioning our defeats.

Montevallo students took part in the ceremonies which designated our campus as a bicentennial community.

The pages of history were turned back to the early years of our heritage as Americans. Everyone took a new look at the American Dream. Strains of "America the Beautiful" and "The Star-Spangled Banner" echoed in our minds as we were constantly reminded of our country and its great past.

Some students reveled in the spirit of Americana; others felt only disgust at the commercialization of America's birthday, asking "Bicentennial or Buy-centennial?"

Women Carry on UM Traditions

Traditions reigned supreme for Montevallo's female population as fall rush captured the hearts of innocent rushees. Later in the semester, Senior women took control in the fright-festival, commonly known as Senior March. Once again the innocent underclassmen were subjected to the ritualized tradition of humiliating treatment. The promise that as Seniors, these victimized women will also be allowed to subject cruel and unusual punishment to the peasant-underclassmen keeps Senior March a favorite for UM coeds.

Construction or Destruction

As new facilities began to emerge from the earth, Montevallo became a haven for workmen, bulldozers, and cement mixers. But as the work began, it seemed more an act of destruction than construction. The campus was converted into a swamp of mud puddles and pot holes. Soon, however, the buildings began to take shape giving UM a new College of Business and an addition to the College of Education.

. . . a UM tradition

Two of America's favorite pastimes

Basketball 1976

Bill Elder, head basketball coach at the University of Montevallo, stated one day early last fall that "if this team breaks .500, I'll be VERY pleased." Well, as the 1975-76 year ended for the Falcon cagers last week by virtue of a 71-68 upset at the hands of the Spring Hill Badgers in the Southern States Conference Tournament at Montgomery, Elder wasn't looking for any excuses. Although the chances of a second berth to the NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City went down the drain with that loss to the red-hot Hillians, there was plenty to reflect on concerning the past season. Tabbed to be a rebuilding year by everyone, Montevallo surprised the critics by finishing the year at 17-10, tied for second place in the Southern States Conf. and leading the NAIA District 27 in defense for the second year running. Included in the season was a 66-58 conquest of major college power West Georgia in the Magic City classic, and strong road wins over William Carey, 79-74, and Athens, 76-56. The "short" Falcons also surprised the University of Alabama in Huntsville by handing them their only Southern States Conference defeat of the year, a 73-70 win at Montevallo in which David Porterfield, Kenny Mack, and Willie Paulk combined for 62 of UM's 73 points. Impressive individual performances also were in evidence throughout the season: Paulk came off the bench to score 21 points in UM's opening 94-68 victory over Tennessee Temple, Porterfield Mack, and Wylie Tucker all had big pre-Christmas games versus Daniel Payne and Auburn Montgomery, Charles Dickinson ably manned the pivot position all year, even though he faced bigger and stronger players every time out. Overall the Falcons seemed to play much better on the road than they did at Myrick Hall, and considering the competition, that was an outstanding feat.

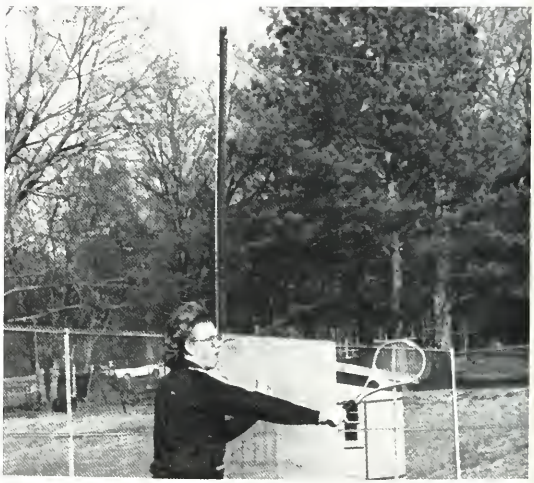
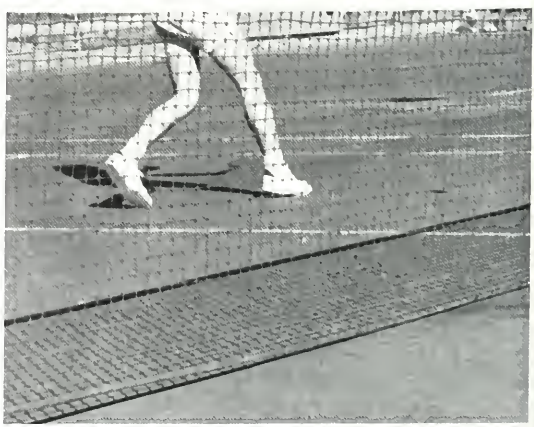
Men's Tennis

1975 was a productive year for Men's tennis at UM. The team finished third in Southern States Conference action. Jack Calley distinguished himself by making it to the finals in the conference tournament, losing in the finals to the tournament champion. Number 1 seed Terry Bailey was honored at the year's end with the MVP award for his outstanding play.





The 1975 UM golf team also faired well in intercollegiate competition. They placed second in the NAIA District 27 playoffs and second in the Southern States Conference Tournament. The MVP award, given annually to the golfer with the lowest stroke average, was presented to Bill Conwell. Returning lettermen from last year's squad are Terry Reynolds, Cal Stanford and Frank Mettrick. New team members include Randy Gilmore, Jerry Ragusa, Doug Dortch, Jerry Miller, Chuck Harris, Henry Vaughn, Bruce Miles, and Lane Gowin.

No one understands until they've lived through it —
No one who lives through it remains completely sane —
Everyone who lives through it swears he'll never do it again —
We did it anyway! What's wrong with us, Mary?

I'd like to thank the dedicated few who lived through it with me — Jim, Billy, Ronnie, Cathy, Sheila, Billy, Jane, Kathy, Susan, Pam, Bonnie, Nancy, Randy, Bill, and Mary (Room!).

A yearbook is a unique undertaking — a blend of skill, patience, time, energy, journalistic know-how, creativity, organization, and insomnia. The 1976 Montage staff displayed those needed qualities in abundance to produce a truly unique history of UM '76.

Some students won't like this book; some will be confused by it; some may love it.

No matter how you react to it - we did what we felt was good and honest and right -

Thanks, Group, I'm proud of you - I couldn't have asked for a finer bunch!

One of the exciting things about striving to become a Christian is that you never know when and where you're going to take a step closer to the Christ.

A step may take weeks, even years, and then sometimes it almost comes in an instant. Sometimes it follows devoted prayer; sometimes it follows intense meditation. Sometimes it follows a period of reverent Bible study. Other times the step follows respectful communication between Christians. But, you never really know when and where it is going to occur.

I was born with a need to laugh. Laughter cleanses me; laughter settles me;
It stimulates me; and it fills me. I was born with a capacity for laughter.

One day. I had a "laughing" day. Everything was a straight line . . . Every situation had its funny side . . . All day I poked, and teased, and giggled, and laughed . .´. And I had to work diligently to interrupt my laughing day with periods of more serious work but even they got jostled with humor, And I didn't care

I met laughing people that day . . . People who giggled and reacted and joked.
I looked into laughing eyes and a laughing face, And my heart was warmed and my soul swelled both giggling as they did so.
Eventually, of course, things calmed down; they always do.

In the dark of night,
In the quiet of prayer,
I saw Christ —

And his eyes were red with tears,
And I felt sick,
And I looked and looked at him.
At his tear-reddened face

And I think I saw him squint
And I saw that the tears were tears of laughter.

And his eyes danced and twinkled,
And softly,
And almost impiously,
He chuckled.

And that night I took a step Toward the Christ
And I loved him as I never had Before.
And I would follow him Anywhere!

"Leaving"

Some of us were leaving little towns and pretty places (though we thought them ugly at the time).
That is not to say that we were special set apart from those who stayed.
We were movers but of our own selves only

Not unlike the cabbage grown for city market there came a time to be detached and trucked away.
And we went willingly.

Some of us
went away
just to get away
Some of us left because horizons never stop.

Beyond each hill
a new one waits and pulls us like the hidden hands of love.

Some of us thought we'd walk a little taller
if we walked away.

Some of us were driven off some of us went driving off and there were those who couldn't do or wouldn't do what those who stayed behind were left to do.

Some of us
chased shadows dreams ambitions and as we went we waved goodbye forever.

Most of all there was some living
to be done, Even I knew that,
ever since they built the road.

Mama shrugged and let me go with some misgiving, and I suspect
a little pride.

— Rod McKuen

Where did it all begin?

Where will it all end?

Montevallo —

It's not just a place
or a school
or a community.

It's a Heritage.

A Heritage founded on principles of freedom and justice and liberty and independence — the sum of our collective experiences.

The year is over. We shared and laughed and grew and cried and studied and loved. Together.
But that isn't the final sum of things.
Many questions remain unanswered.

Where did it all begin?

Where will it all end?

Freedom —

Did we ever really know the meaning of that word?
Where did our freedom lie?

And Justice —

Have we come any closer to true justice on the campus of our university?

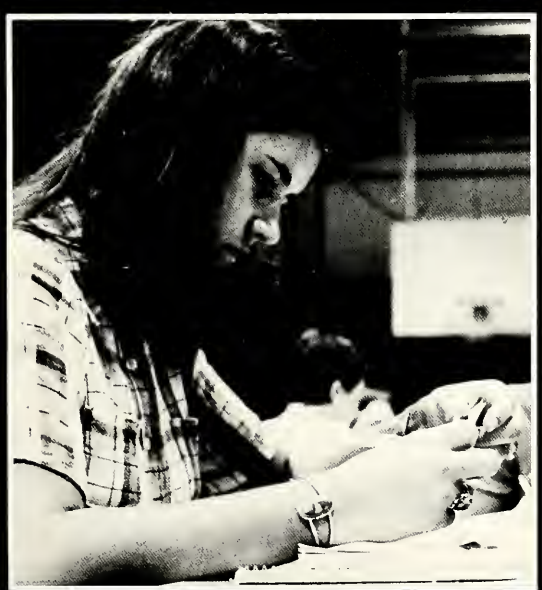
Will we ever be able to term Montevallo progressive or free-thinking?



A. Women

Campusing: When a student is campused, she is restricted to her residence hall, except to go to church, and she may not have a date. She must attend all classes for which she does not have an infirmary excuse. She shall spend the night in her room and shall not have overnight guests. She shall not use the telephone except when permission is granted her by the House President.

Room Restriction: This penalty requires a student to remain in her room with the door closed, except when attending class, church, or studying in the library. She must forego the privilege of spending the night out of her room and neither she nor her roommate may have visitors. She must attend all classes for which she does not have an infirmary excuse, and forego the privilege of extra-curricular activities.

B. Men

Violations of men's regulations are punishable by fines which may not exceed five dollars (except in case of property damage).

Liberty —

Did we possess those rights guaranteed to us?

Were we free from arbitrary control?

Can one generation bind another and all others in succession
forever?
I think not.
The Creator has made the Earth for the living not the Dead.

A generation may bind itself as long as its majority continues in life;
when that has disappeared,
another majority is in place, holding all the powers their predecessors once held,
and may change their laws and institutions to suit themselves.
Nothing then in unchangeable but the inherent and inalienable rights of man.

— Thomas Jefferson 1781

Men and times change - but principles - Never

Grover Cleveland
1904

Independence —

Did we achieve the spirit of independence we sought in coming to Montevallo?

Were we independent of our parents? From expected behavior?

We were ready to challenge the world.
We let some opportunities slip by, but there are others that we will not miss. But did we ever become independent? Have we learned all those lessons that no professor could ever hope to teach us?

Have we come any closer to learning what life is all about?
In some ways we've inched forward, a fraction closer to our goal.
We've stepped across the threshold into a new awareness, the third century of American Independence.
Have we simply accepted our role as an American without thought?
Can we meet the challenge?
Will we meet the challenge?
Will we strive for a better world where everyman knows the meaning of liberty, justice, freedom, and independence?

'76 has come —

We have the potential
to be the new Patriots, to re-establish the American ideals.

A new revolution stirs within.

Where did it all begin?

Where will it all end?

It's up to us, as individuals.

Our year together is over.
We leave Montevallo to ask more questions to find more answers

God forbid we should ever be more than twenty years without a Revolution.

— Thomas Jefferson

"A great institution is born of its time. There must be a need, a demand, that brings it forth. If that institution lasts, it must change with the times; otherwise, a changing society moves on and the institution is left to wither away, unnecessary, unwanted, unsupported. Adaptation becomes the key to life and growth. This is true whether the institution is political, social, economic, religious, or educational, large or small. Any year in a rapidly changing world has seen old institutions die and others change beyond recognition. Others led by wiser heads lend themselves to change so gradually that only when one looks at them from a distance and over a span of years, does one realize that they are not the ones he once knew. Changes in old Alma Mater are not always welcome. In fact, they are usually unwelcome. The old grad likes to come back to find her room in Main Dorm just like it was, and the classroom where a favorite teacher presided unchanged. But memories have a way of playing tricks on us, and the chances are they never were as we remember. Nevertheless, changes are both necessary and inevitable."
